

Employees must have their managers approval before working remotely.